CC and Open Access Journals

SPARC Europe Seal for Open Access Journals

- SPARC Europe and DOAJ have introduced a certification scheme for Open Access journals, the SPARC Europe Seal for Open Access Journals.
- To receive the "Seal" the journal has to choose the CC-BY license (Creative Commons license) and provide DOAJ with metadata on article level.

What are the advantages of having the SPARC Europe Seal?

- Clarity around user permissions for papers published in an open access journal.
- Possible long-term archiving of content
- Better dissemination, usage and impact due to access to metadata
