

Incest is like many other incorrect things a very poetical circumstance. It may be the excess of love or of hate. It may be that defiance of everything for the sake of another which clothes itself in the glory of the highest heroism, or it may be that cynical rage which confounding the good and bad in existing opinions breaks through them for the purpose of rioting in selfishness and antipathy.

Percy Bysshe Shelley

Glendon College
Creative Writing and Dramatic Arts Programme presents

“No Pity She’s a Whore”

A Tragedy by John Ford designed and directed by Michael Gregory

Parson Auditorium

Keble Street

March 15, 16, 1968

8:30 p.m.

