With a lit - tle ba - by on her knee
To that lit - tle home I'm long-ing for
Then comes back that Wy-Then each night I shall
o - ming lul - la - by,
hear my Moth-er's voice,
Moth - er used to sing to me
Sing that lul - la - by once more;
When Just
night is near,
once a - gain
That song I hear.
I'll hear that strain.

FAR in the East there's a soft, crimson glow.
The new day blushes at its dawning;
Soft sing the birds in a ceaseless flow
Their welcome to the new-born morning.
Dull gray shadows, then a flaming sky,—
Such was the picture when we said good-bye!

Sunrise and you, and the soft morning dew,
Like the tears on your cheek when we parted;
My fond heart awakes
when the glorious day breaks,
For the sunrise reminds me of you!

Out from the depths of a starless night
Comes radiant morn, to find me longing;
Gone are the shadows, my heart is light,
And in my breast new hopes are thronging,
Cold gray dawn will soon have passed, and then
Skies will be smiling when we meet again!

Sunrise and you, and the soft morning dew,
Like the tears on your cheek when we parted;
My fond heart awakes
when the glorious day breaks,
For the sunrise reminds me of you!
