THE DEAR OLD DAYS.

Song and Chorus.

Words by JOHN BLAIR. Music by H. P. DANKS.

free from care to last. I watch from moth-ers side the old - - er wis - er men. Yet I have kept with mis - er nought that was is dead; For e ven now in thought I waves, That wash the sand - y shore, As care, Some things which are of worth, Nor place, The joys I knew so well, And pass ing feel the old, old graves, Are new, are new to me once more.

shall I part with rel - ics rare, Of cheer - ful hap - py days on earth.
in my heart to day I trace, My boy - hood's im - mor - telle.

CHORUS.

Sop. I love the tho't that then was taught, And Alto. I love the though, the tho't that then was taught, And

Ten. I love the though, the tho't that then was taught, And Bass.

shall not cease to praise, The pow'r that lives and to us

shall not cease to praise, And shall not cease to praise The pow'r that lives and to us

shall not cease to praise, And shall not cease to praise The pow'r that lives and to us gives, Kind thoughts, kind thot's of dear old days.

gives, and to us gives. Kind thot's of dear old days, kind thot's of dear old days.

gives, and to us gives, Kind thot's of dear old days, kind thot's of dear old days.

thot's of dear old days.
