

THE CENTRE FOR INDIGENOUS
KNOWLEDGES AND LANGUAGES

RESEARCH SEMINAR

Monday, March 13
7:00-8:30PM
On Zoom and
Accolade East Bldg
Rm 007

Heart-centered research and Anishinabe ontology

Dr. Leora Gansworth

Post Doctoral Fellow, Osgood Hall Law School

In her dissertation project, Dr. Gansworth suggests that Anguilla rostrata, American eels, are important species to remember and understand within the lands and histories of Anishinabeg and other Indigenous nations. The research methods included contributions from thinkers in Anishinabe-centric studies and settings along with other disciplines. This talk will share details about both process and findings.

Registration

CIKL

YORK Centre for Indigenous Knowledges and Languages