ROCK-A-BYE LAND

Writer of "When Mother Sang Hush-A-Bye, O"

CHORUS Slowly with expression

Rock-a-Bye ba-by come take my hand, I know a strand called Rock-a-by Land,
Chas-ing the sun-beams that lead the way, We'll go a-sail-ing down Rock-a-by Bay;
Now close your eyes way up in the skies, An-gels will watch o'er thee keep,
In twi-ghts gleam you'll find a sweet dream, While moth-er sings you to sleep,
Rock-a-by ba-by on the tree top, When the wind blows the cradle will rock,

EXPRESS, SATURDAY MORNING,

THE PROLOGUE

Some very choice bits of musical news.

Rock-a-bye Land is the title of the latest song of H. C. Weasner of this city, who has written both words and music of this composition. Mr. Weasner has a happy faculty of creating a combination of text and melody which makes strong appeal to the public, and this newest song of his will probably prove as popular as his earlier successful one, When Mother Sang Hush-a-bye, O. An attractive title page graces Rock-a-bye Land.

When Mother Sang, "Hush A-Bye, O"

CHORUS (Slowly and tenderly)

When moth-ers sang hush-a-bye, ba-by to me, 'Twas just an old fash-ioned sweet mel-o-dy, An-gels in heav-en ne'er sang such a strain, I'd give the world just to hear it a-gain. Hush-a-bye, Hush-a-bye wee ba-by dear, An-gels will guard thee and moth-er is near.
