RUN THIS OVER

"BOY IN BLUE"

By GORDON V. THOMPSON and LEWIS OWEN.

This pretty little naval ballad is the true story of a sailor boy who now "sleeps beneath the deep blue main." His sweetheart lives in a little American town, possibly ignorant of the fact that a great many people sympathize with her as they play and sing "Boy in Blue." After such disasters as the "Titanic" and the "Empress of Ireland," as well as the tragedies of naval warfare, a song like this is particularly appropriate. Try it over and get it at your dealers.

"SHADOWLAND."

By GORDON V. THOMPSON.

Sometimes when things go wrong, don't you often long for a dreamy, far-away somewhere, where troubles never come? Where there is no war, but all is love and roses? It is just this sort of a spot that you sing about in this beautiful waltz song "SHADOWLAND." Sing it! Whistle it! Forget your troubles, worry and care! The melody will haunt you, the harmony will please you - in short you'll be better for getting this song. Its cost is but a trifle at any progressive dealers.

Chorus

The musical score for the chorus of "Shadowland" is presented in two systems. The first system contains the first two lines of the chorus, and the second system contains the next two lines. The music is written for voice and piano. The key signature has one flat (B-flat), and the time signature is 3/4. The first system begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. The piano accompaniment starts with a mezzo-piano (mp) dynamic. The second system continues the melody and accompaniment, with the piano part ending on a piano (p) dynamic. The lyrics are: "In shad - ow land, my shad - ow land, I dream and dream and dream; And in my dreams it".
