LIFE SONGS

---

---

By GORDON V. THOMPSON

Life Songs are just simple thoughts that came to the author at various times, which he versified and set to simple music. The object of these songs is to give an uplifting message in a song that will reach the heart. They are not written for the few but for the many. Every person has his trials, temptations, troubles, defeats, victories. No matter what his feelings at the time, there is a Life Song that will express them. Life Songs were not written because there was a market; the market came because the songs were good. There will be more numbers added to the series from time to time. It is the author's aim to make each song an improvement on the last. Only tested songs will be put into this series, so when you see a new "Life Song" you may know it is a good one.
