

Dedicated to Mama and Baba

“Alice”

written and directed by Srimoyee Mitra

In “Alice” I have tried to explore the roots of common fairy tales, mythologies, and true stories that have been mythologized. The ‘fetishization’ of women in myth, images of the perfect silent heroines from Perrault’s fairy tales and their pertinence today are all themes that I have played with while writing and directing “Alice”. It has been an unique & exciting adventure for me to watch the evolution of “Alice”. I would like to express my heartfelt thanks and gratitude to the cast and crew for their dedication and capacity to have fun in the midst of all the obstacles that came our way. I would like to thank Theatre Glendon for being the forum that has enabled me to keep experimenting, learning and evolving. And finally Mat Kensett, Duncan Appleton and Prof. Bob Wallace for their valuable input and contributions to “Alice” .
