

For Immediate Release

Theatre Glendon / Théâtre Glendon presents:

Cactus Moon

Created and directed by Noemie Maya and Sarah Rogers

November 27 until the 30, 2002 @ 8:00pm

Glendon College, York Hall

2275 Bayview Avenue @ Lawrence

www.glendon.yorku.ca/theatre/

All performances: pay-what-you-can

Reservations: (416) 487 6822

York University's Theatre Glendon is proud to open its 2002-2003 season with Cactus Moon, an independent production created and directed by Noemie Maya and Sarah Rogers.

Cactus Moon questions the inevitability of loneliness and insanity. This play explores the journeys of six characters, as they return home to dismantle the void created by their emotional isolation.

With its symbolic set, sequences of song and dance, Cactus Moon creates dreamscapes and a fragmented atmosphere of remembering. Through the use of audience participation, the audience is invited into this world of eccentricity, delusion and humour.

Cactus Moon follows the illustrious tradition of Theatre Glendon's independent productions. A student run production, Cactus Moon showcases the college's Drama Studies Program, and promises to be an evening of innovative talent and creativity.

For further information regarding this or any other productions held at theatre Glendon please contact Katie at (416) 487 6822