Flower Of Memory.

Moderato.
Words and Music by W. C. HOWARD.

There is a dear little flow'r that I love and the sweet pea is its name.
Oft in my childhood I've woven a crown ere its bloom could fade away.

Its odor like a breath from Heaven has earned its way.
And proudly chose a pretty playmate, Then made her ever lasting fame.

Around my window it clusters when little queen at play.
Oh pretty posy you've taught me the Spring-time has come and I feel a childish joy,

Then think of the mother dear departed.
As over the meadows I wandered,
I'll tenderly sing this refrain.

Chorus.
Oh gentle flower of memory,
I would your blossoms sweet could ceremain, The roses fair cannot compare, Oh haste the day when you will come again, In early spring, Tis quite the thing, To twine you into garlands neath the trees, Of all the rest I love you best, My little dainty darling flow'r sweet peas.
