Thou art the soul of a summer's day,

Con Pedale.

Thou art the breath of the rose; But the summer is fled and the rose is dead; Where are they gone— who knows, who— knows?

I Want A Regular Man.

Lyric by HAPGOOD BURT.

Music by KARL HOSCHNA.

Tempo di marcia.

I've these passed the age of puppy love and spooning, And it's time the wedding budding Romes are not alarming, I have my fill of bells for me were turning, I wish you'd help me if you can. To suitors young and charming, And now that I am twenty three, I find a really human man, Who'll marry me and take me honestly, rather feel it's up to me, To settle down and do some stock ing

REFRAIN.

All I want is a regular man, I want a regular man, or none at all!

One who’s on the American plan, And wears a hat that’s not too small.
All I want is a regular man,
With shoulders wide, and
six feet tall;
I want a man who
has some brains,
One who has red blood in his veins;
I want a regular man, that's all!

Beyond The Sunset.
(And God Is Overhead.)

Lyric by HOLMAN QUINN.

Slowly with expression.

Do not mourn, beloved, or weep when I am dead; For the life of man is but a span, And God is overhead.

Life quicker.

And I shall wait your coming Beyond the uttermost stars, And my soul shall greet Your soul, my sweet, When you wing through the sunset.
