THAT SWEET STORY OF OLD.

JOHN A. WEST.

I think when I read that sweet story of old,
When I wish that His hand had been placed on my head,
That His foot-stool in prayer I may go,
And Jesus was here among men,
How He called little children as arm had been thrown around me,
And that I might have seen His kind ask for a share in His love,
And if I thus earnestly

lambs to His fold, I should like to have been with Him then,
look when He said, "Let the little ones come unto me".

seek Him below, I shall see Him and hear Him above.

How He called little children as me?,
And that I might have seen His kind above,
And if I thus earnestly

lambs to His fold, I should like to have been with Him then,
look when He said, "Let the little ones come unto me".

seek Him below, I shall see Him and hear Him above.

Very slow and sustained

O'er waiting harp-strings of the mind There sweeps a strain, low, sad, and sweet

LOVE NEVER FAILETH

CORINTHIANS 13:13
Revised Version

Love never faileth

FREDERIC W. ROOT

Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not love.
