I Know Where The Flies Go
(On A Cold And Frosty Morning)

Written by Sam Mayo and John P. Harrington

Composed by Sam Mayo

There's a great commotion
Mary had a lover,
spreading thro' our clime;
No one knows where flies go in the Winter time,
in a standard suit, She'd encouraged him, but it had borne no fruit

Scientists all tell us it's a mystery-
Till one evening, he said, "Listen, darling, do, Something of importance all, excepting me. Don't know where Lloyd George goes, for a holiday;
I'll impart to you. She thought, "Now it's coming—he'll propose to me."

Don't know what—will win the Derby, but I'm pleased to say—
Then he clasped her to his breast, and whispered, tenderly—

CHORUS (2nd Time f)

I know where the flies go in the winter-time;
Each year, in Sep—tember,  Up the wall they climb.  Lay their eggs, then fly away,

Come back on the first of May. Break their eggs, then, oh what joy, First a girl and then a boy— Then they sing, "We've travel'd far, And eat'en all the peaches down in Georgia." So, now you know where flies go, On a cold and frosty morning, morn-ing.
