I WISH I HAD A GIRL

Words by GUS KAHN

Music by GRACE LEOY

Moderato

P Not too fast

These days ev'ry fellow has a sweetheart.
There are times when I get fairly started.
croonin' and some spoon-in' too I guess, But no sighin' and my try-in's all in vain, Cruel matter how I strive Folks don't know that I'm a-live, And I fate spoils ev'ry plan, 'Cause I'm not a ladies man, And a fear I'm goin' to die of loneliness lonely creature I'll always remain.

CHORUS Not too fast

Gee, I wish that I had a girl like the other fellows had,

I wish I had a girl
Seems that ev'ry girl i.e. has a beau,
With some girl i.e. who looks good to me,

Gee I'd be glad if I only had
But I can't win 'cause some-one butts in,

Some one to tell me "I love you so."
And then it looks like they meant twenty-three. It

I wish I had a girl
Some one to make a fuss o’ver me, To cheer me up when I feel sad; On Wednesday night I’m all alone When I ought to be up at some sweetheart’s home And “I’m lonesome, awfully lonesome,” Gee, I wish I had a girl.
An optical slant at the following terrific Song Hits published by the Thompson Music Co.

[the tuneful house]

by Kahn & LeBoy. Sung and played in every nook and corner. The greatest “Sentimentally loquacious novelty” published in years. This song has that psychological something—you must hear it to find out.

“Base-Ball,”
Lewis & Brown’s great characteristic number. Distinctly individual—a musical and poetical diagnosis of the National game. Brown’s music means original melody, and he wrote this one.

“Will You Always Call Me Honey,”
by Kahn & LeBoy. A new ballad, but different from the rest. A reminiscent lyric given a beautiful and harmonious setting. The success of a song is in a modus operandi of the melody, and this song has the proper ingredients.

“In The Good Old United States,”
by Lewis & Mincer. A stirring march song with a tinge of patriotism. Not a superfluous “give us your kind applause” song; just a genuine Yankee march hit.
