So you're glad you found me,
I don't like to slight you,
Well there's no use hanging
But I have a perfect

'round me, I won't listen to your love plea, right to, All the things you promised you'd do,

Your love means nothing to me;
Were soon forgotten by you;

Once I thought the world a-Now you say I'm acting bout you,

strangely,

Thought I couldn't live without you,
And you wonder what has changed me,

But you gave me cause to doubt you,
I'm not crying, still it pains me, and you know why.

to say good-bye.

too late now to tell me that you, Why did you do it? why did you do it? It's too late now, my love can't be the same, and you're to blame It's too late now, you needn't ask me, You didn't want it, You didn't want it,

Once you ruled me, but you fooled me I could weep

It's Too Late Now when I think of; I'm not com-plain-in; I'm not com-plain-in; You can keep your sym-pa-thy; Just let me be I could for-get all you did be-fore and I'd ev-en let you come back once more. But I've got an oth-er lov-ing sweet-ie, and it's too late now. It's now.
