NOTE! This Song was inspired by and Dedicated to His Royal Highness Edward, Prince of Wales

We consider this Song one of the Very Best of the Season. Friends who have heard it immediately say, "Why it's another 3 o'clock in the Morning". Others say it's another "Wonderful One"—2 of the biggest "Hits" ever written—so this comparison means we certainly have something exceptionally GOOD—we want you to hear it by Radio, at your Local Dealer, or next time you're near an Orchestra ASK THEM TO PLAY IT.

"Evenings At Home" is the best illustrated sheet music catalog of Popular Music ever published. It contains enough of the words and music of the choruses of songs, miniature reproduction of the titles page, and a little description of each number; also the words of one verse and chorus of each song, so you can tell after going over the pages carefully just what you want. It also contains a list of novelty Phonograph Records, Saxophone Music and Saxophone accessories. Also many other things of interest to the lovers of Popular Music. "Evenings At Home" is in itself a source of entertainment in itself different, and will be more than welcome by all who like to keep posted on what's doing in the Music and Radio World. In "Evenings At Home" you will find "just what you're looking for" and we feel you will become one of our best "Boomers", and know you'll tell your friends about it. "Evenings At Home" is free—but the postage is two cents, which you can enclose in your letter of request. Send today.

Moderato

'Twas a wise old owl that said,
That we might as well be dead,
As to be out of way,
Seeds of kindness every day,
And the harvest we'll
date or out of style,
If we want to "sit in," With the reap in just a while,
For a true friend in need. Is a true friend indeed, So let's sweet en the world with a smile.

CHORUS

Though the clouds may be gray, They will soon roll away, And the sunshine will come peep-ing through;
So just cheer up and smile, For it's always worthwhile, Though sometimes we're weary and blue.
