The same old moon that shines upon the river immortalized by Stephen C. Foster's "Swanee River" is sung of again in this song of charm and world-old love—"Swanee River Moon." Harmony notes for two voices are interwoven with a pretty waltz-time melody and sentimental lyrics that you will want to try over and over. Find a place in your library of records and player rolls for "Swanee River Moon." Your dealer will be glad to play it for you.

"People like us stand up in trolleys, People like us

I can afford to smile, Most all the while, And when the storm clouds gather,
I have to work all day, But oh say, Every Sunday morning,
I fall in someone's lap, And get a slap, And we are packed like sardines, we don't make a fuss, We know that they can never do much damage, It's a different case, Cause when the clock goes off at seven thirty, in the supper rush, And every time they slam the doors, why six or to people like us,

we laugh in its face;
seven ribs they crush;
Why should we care,
if some have all the

Out in the park,
love-ly spot to spoon, I said that bout,
When the car stops,
can't get in or out, I said that

People like us
don't have to wor-ry,
'things can't be much
People like us
don't have to wor-ry,
