Theatre Glendon is proud to present Ici! Now! From March 18th until the 22nd, 2003. This theatrical piece is based on the poems of Anne Nenarokoff and directed by John Van Burek. Ici! Now! is produced by students as a component of Para Dela Realis, a course offered by the Drama Studies department of Glendon College. All performances are in French.

Through poems, music and song, life is given to the works of Anne Nenarokoff. Exploring identity, these texts are comical and dramatical, giving a voice to a young woman in todays society.

Biographical note:

Anne Nenarokpff is the author of numerous pieces for TVOntario/TFO for young adults and adults alike. Her credits include Artwood Duos, which was staged just last year by Guillaume Bernardi. Her play Coeur de Chien, an adaptation of the novel by Mikhail Boulgakov was recently produces by Théâtre Français de Toronto, as well as an english version Heart of Dogs by Pleiades Theatre. Her book credits include Adriane`s thread, Vies de femmes and Confidences.
