to tell you, Bonnie. Can't believe it's true, that you're in love—with ve- ran-da? Bonnie, You would sit and rock, Id knit and talk—with me; Please say that I'm not dreaming, Sweetheart can't you see?

And when the summer's over, we'd enclose it so, it was meant to be, You were meant for me. Bonnie: How very we'd not mind the snow, We could keep it warm. Bonnie: And we'd be happy I will be, dear when you marry me. (I'll be contented.) cozy as you please when winter breezes blow. Ted: (A great idea.)

Refrain

You and I love you and me, And I love you so tenderly, It seems, our dreams of love will all come true.

I have bought a little lot, it's just the spot to build a tiny cottage, only big enough for two. And maybe we'll engage a little maid, to do as she is pied to do, To aid you when our friends drop in, for tea; And maybe in a year or two, or three, perhaps, we'll add a nursery; For, dearest, you and I love you and me.
