

Showcasing 7 student-written plays, Glendon's annual student run drama festival is back for Fridge Festival 2013. Running for four nights, the festival will be showing off Glendon's talent through student organizers, directors, stage managers and actors. This year the festival includes seven shows: "Beware the Superman" by Stephen Johnson, "Mr. B Goode" by Dominic Di Iorio, "Nought at the Opera" by Adrien Benson, "Richard" an adaptation of Richard III envisioned by Kitti Laki, "Teeth" by Ashton Smith, "The Vicissitudes of Julia" by Ginette Twinem-Tremblay, and "Waiting" by Rosemary Richings. The festival will exhibit even more Glendon talent with singers, dancers and writers performing between shows each night. Is your fridge running, because Fridge Festival 2013 is!

Produced by Lionheart Productions Coeur de Lion, Fridge Festival 2013 runs from March 6th to 9th at 7pm. Tickets are Pay-What-You-Can and can be reserved by calling the Theatre Glendon Box Office at (416)487-6822 or by contacting fridgefestival2013@gmail.com.
