Nightingale

WALTZ SONG

By JAMES BROCKMAN

CHORUS (With whistling effect)

Sing, nightingale, again, I love, I love, to hear your sweet song, Fly o'er hill and plain,

And bring, please bring my sweet-heart a-long, Sing,

nightingale again Don't say, don't say I'll have to wait

Back Where The Daffodils Grow

By WALTER DONALDSON

Some-bod-y feels lone-some Some-bod-y feels sad,
I'll say that I'm luck-y I've some place to go;

Some-bod-y feels mel-an-chol-y Some-bod-y feels bad,
I'm that lit-tle some-bod-y,
learn to smile and be hap-py you know.

I get blu-er each day, Talk of won-der-ful skies,
I feel that I'm just no-bod-y When I feel that way. Say!

Believe me you'll see some sun-shine When you see my eyes. Why!

CHORUS

I won't be happy till I'm back where the daffodils grow

There's a cozy little shack over on the hill Back where the daffodils grow

Let me wake up in the early morn Let me wander thru the dewy dawn 'Neath the sunny sky where I was born I love it

Back Where The Daffodils Grow
I can always get a thrill from the whip-poor-will Back where the daffodils grow.

You can bet that I'll be happy there And I'll be daffy not to go.

That little Blue-bird song seems to sing "Come on a-long." Let's linger.

On the little hill Back where the daffodils grow.
