American Lyric by DOLLY MORSE

Moderato

Music by
ERNESTO LECUONA

If you've been back in Havana,
Now you're back from Havana.
You have heard a dreamy tune,
Where you took in every sight.
But that tune of Havana,
When you think of Havana.

Van-a - You re-call this dream-y Van-a - Can still keep you up at tune. If you've danced All you bought in Ha-
Van-a - You've caught its funny rhythm that made your senses
Van-a - Has vanished just like bubbles but left one sou-

stray,
-Nier,
Night and day fear
here's that

Tan-ta-liz-ing mel-o-dy they play.
Cu-ban-ola mel-o-dy you'll hear.
CHORUS

Si-bo-ney, (See-bo-nay)
that's the tune that they croon at you down Ha-

van-a way, (See-bo-nay) that's the dance that they dance at the Café,

And that

tune brings you dreams so it seems underneath the silver moon,
As they play, Si-bon-ey, ev'-ry care will fade away.
Fasci-nat-ing, cap-ti-vat-ing, Si-bon-ey, Si-bon-ey.

Fasci-nat-ing Si-bon-ey, Si-bon-ey, Si-bon-ey.
Fasci-nat-ing, how they sway.

When they want an en-core they ask for more Si-bon-ey.
