When the sun in its glory and splendor,
In the evening when moon dreams are streaming—

Sheds its gold on my dear desert—
O'er the place where you slumber and rest—

Then my heart yearns for you, warm and tender—
As in those happy days when we gain in my dreaming—met And we strolled hand in hand on the shore dear Of our west And I know in your heart you are praying For the beau-ti-ful blue in-land sea And you whis-pered so sweet o'er and one who roams, far far a-way And a-gain, dear, your sweet lips aye o'er, dear I'll be true, 'till you come back to me My say-ing I'll be true, I'll be wait-ing for aye My

CHORUS

Rock- y Moun-tain sweet-heart With eyes of heav-en-ly hue

My Rocky-Mountain etc 3 There's none where I have wandered So sweet, so brave, so true
Tho' time is slowly creeping Yet when my labor's thru My Rocky Mountain sweetheart Coming back to you back to you
back to you
