Words by JEAN C. HAVEZ

Moderato con moto

Music by LOU A. HIRSCH

When the night is deep and the soft note in her

When Matilda Sings

rain pours down, And the weather is out of tune,

You'd think that dear and I would long,

Then she answers, For the stars and the sily throat, And it thrills me through and through,

For the stars and the sily throat, And it thrills me through and through.

Then she sings of a heart that is true to her, And the answer is "I love you!"

But my heart is light and my soul is free, And we sings,
When Matilda Sings.
soft em-brace, As she don't pine for those things, For all the shadows are close-ly to me clings, And the world is nev-er so lift-ed and, Dis-ap-pear when Ma-til-da sings:

good a place, As it is when Ma-til-da sings:

Chorus.

For when Ma-til-da sings, Oh then the whole world
When Matilda Sings.

Each soft caressing measure

From my thirsting treasure is filled with pleasure—Oh when Matilda sings,

My soul goes forth on wings—My heart is thirsting bursting, when Matilda sings. For when Matilda sings.
