Andante moderato.

All a - lone, dear heart, I'm dream - ing, and my dreams are all of you.
And they
In my fan - cy you are sigh - ing, as when late we sat
a - lone, And you make life seem a par - a - dise. From your will-ed that we must live a-part.

Then my Though my heart is filled with glad-ness, but 'tis on-ly for a while, For home is filled with treas-ures, and I've wealth to bring me cheer, The dreams, you know, can't live for aye,

days are long and I am blue.
When I

wake at last, I sigh for the happiness gone by,
know that all my gold would bring happiness, untold,

world seems lonely since you went away.
be enjoyed if only shared by you.

CHORUS.
It's a lonely world without you, dearest girlie,
At night I pine,
The stars won't shine, And the flowers that bloomed a-bout you, dear-est girl-ie, They are with-ered and have fall-en from the vine,— E'en the birds of dawn, that in my wak-ing hours Sang sweet and clear,— no more I hear,— And my dreams of you bring naught but wak-ing
sor-row, It's a lone-ly world with-out you, dear.
Senora.
Spanish Waltz Song.

Tempo di Valse brillante.

Hark now, hear the tambourines ring, ring, where laughter always reigns.

Senor and Senora are winging, and singing sweet refrains.

High overhead flags are flying, and perfume, fills the air.
