Valse moderato.

Piano.

The years have rolled on-ward, my Mary dear, Since The last spray was gath-ered by Mary dear, When love in its glo-ry first came, The wood-lands, the bare branch-es sway-ed, soft and light, Then wood-land, and mead-ows, the skies bright and clear, Where crim-son, with Au-tumn's fair mead-ows, lay spark-ling and clear, Be-neath win-ter's man-tle of Moderato.

Piano:

When Lu-an-der met A-man-da
He said "dear-ie don't get wea-ry"

Till Ready.

He told her that he could dance, From her ball-room to the ball-room
Tho' I'm slow I'm not a fool, I'm advan-ing I've learned danc-ing,

There she went and took a chance, First he stum-bled then he tum-bled
From a cor-es-pon-dence school" She said "Son-ny save your mon-e-y

When some fancy steps be tried, Tho' she did her best to hold him
You don't stand a half a chance, Take my tip and take in no ball

Soon she told him she must scold him, 'Listen to me,' she cried.
You've as much chance as a snow ball, Un-till you learn to dance.

Chorus.
Marcia moderato.

Do it the right way, do it the right way, Neither too fast nor slow up Honey Gee, it's funny. This old dance needs no improvements, Lose all those new-fangled movements, Do it the way I know, no, no, sir, don't come closer Is it dreamy?

If ma could see me, Wouldn't there be some row? Ev'y move puts me in clover, Lordy, Lordy, start all over Honey
