Moderato

Last night I heard some sing-in' real They sang a song so funny, so sing-in' great sing-in' And there were voices ring-in' to fun-ny, oh honey I threw away my money it good old Southern tunes, I heard some colored fellers, swell tick-led me to death, Then Billy sang a ballad, sweet fellers, four fellers And I've seen some Rathskelers and ballad, fine ballad I choked on chicken salad unentertainin' coons: I might y nearly til I lost my breath: No sooner would the wented insane: When they started singin' this refrain boys begin: Then I found myself a joinin' in

"Way down yonder in the old cornfield."
"Way down yonder in the old cornfield."

CHORUS

You don't mean to tell me that you never met That Coontown Quartette? You don't mean to say you never heard'em yet? That Coontown Quartette. Timmy's the tenor,

Bil ly's the bass. Barry sings the bar-i-tone all a-round the place;

That Coontown Quartette - 4
Most surpris-ing, harmoniz-ing, Have you heard 'em?

go and hear 'em sing-in' "Lindy, Lindy, sweet little sugar pet" Throw a nickle on the drum

Bum-pi-ty bum, To that Coontown Quartette. You tette.
