Like A Ship That Drifted Away
Quartette Chorus

Arr. by Alfred J. Doyle

In to my life when all was bright you came like a ship one day, one day
In to my life when all was bright you came like a ship one day,

Out of my life in to the night like a ship you drifted a way,
Out of my life in to the night like a ship you drifted a way,

Out of my life in to the night like a ship you drifted a way, drifted far away
Gone are the tears and the weary years I love you that's all I say, I say
Gone are the tears and the weary years I love you that's all I say, I say

Gone are the tears and the weary years I love you that's all I say, I say
I want you in my life again The ship that drifted away, far away,
I want you in my life again The ship that drifted away, far away,
I want you in my life again The ship that drifted away, far away.

Un-der the pale moon

Sad is my heart to-night
Oft-en I press'd your hand

Vessels glide Un to some distant shore
Held you fast Nor dreamed we loved in vain

Softly it sings the restless tide Of days that are no more
I sometimes think from out the past That dream will come again
