In the Shadow of the Desert Palm

Words by E.J. MYERS

Musie by WILL E. DULMAGE

Drifting on the great Sahara, do you ever think of me?

Drifting on the great Sahara, in your dusty caravan;

You're far away and today skies are gray, But soon I'll meet you where the
In all my dreams, dear, it seems you recall, The happy days you long for

Palm trees sway; The same old Gypsy trail will guide me to where love's dream began,

Most of all; Just keep my heart with all its love dear, in sweetest memory.

There's a Red Bordered Flag in the Window"

A Big One-Step Hit "Sliding Sid"

CHORUS

Where your caravan is resting, Dream away, your dreams will soon come true; Like the desert birds a nesting, I'll build a tent for two, a tent that's meant for you; So wait for me, my little Cleopatra, Love me like she loved Marc Anthony; Where your caravan is resting, In the shadow of the desert palm. Where your palm...
