Moderato

When twilight shadows appear in the west,
I'm drifting now upon memories sea,
They bring back memories of days I love best;
Though love just lived like a happiness then was all rose for a day, It seems that you're near me and you hear me say:
I seemed to know, Yet dreams are but visions of scenes long ago.
Chorus

When I dream in the glooming of days that are passed,
Dreaming of love,
You said would last,
And again I enfold you and I hold you fast,
While I love and caress you my dear;
When dreaming, it seems that you're near me,
'til moonbeams make you disappear;
As you did when you left me to dream through the years
In a garden of shadows and tears.
