Canadian Patriotic Ballad

Sung by H. Ruthven McDonal

There's a Girl in Old Ontario

Words and Music by

N. McLeod

Published by

N. McLeod
CANNINGTON, Ont.
There's A Girl In Old Ontario

Words & Music by
N. McLeod
Arr. by A. Waizmann

When the war note sounded in Ontario,
You're the bravest girl in old Ontario,

When the war note sounded in Ontario,
You're the bravest girl in old Ontario,

Copyright, Canada, 1915 by N. McLeod. British Copyright Secured.
U.S. Copyright 1915 by N. McLeod. felt the bugles were all calling him And to battle he would may be others in this goodly land But there's only one for go. His decision he confided to his sweetheart 'Twas a me. I will fight for King and country to the last dear And if fight twixt Love and Duty 'tis true But she bravely whispered "Go" Tho' I'll it should be His all wise Decree I'll return again to thee, Then the miss you Jack you know, Do your duty first and Love I'll wait for you. Parson we will see And together will for ever happy be.
CHORUS
a tempo

There's a girl in old Ontario, Who is waiting for her Jack, There's a girl in old Ontario Who is praying he'll come back The days will be long and drear-y And should he ne'er return In her heart of hearts there will always be a corner, Where Love's Light for Soldier Jack will ever burn.

There's A Girl In O.O. 4