back to sunny Tennessee Sure his brave heart will beat with joy

And when they know he's fought for liberty They'll shake his hand and say, Oh, boy! You were the bravest of the family, And now you've proved that you're pure gold, What a hot time there'll be, down in Old Tennessee, When the loved one returns to the fold. When he gets fold.

Moderato

When the shades of night are falling, And the stars are all aglow,
In my dreams I'm always drifting, Our the sea of memory,

Seems to me I hear you calling, As in days of long ago, Clouds from by-gone days are lifting, And it seems that I can see,
